

Come and talk with us.
We need you!

The Legal 'Association "Pro Vita" (JPV) was founded in 1983. Since 30 years the JPV ("Juristenvereniging Pro Vita") is active in the social debate on the dignity of human life.

This involvement is first of all characterized by listening carefully. Subsequently we take part in the debate with our legal expertise. The JPV supports stakeholders, among other things, with insight publications or organizes symposia and meetings.

Come and talk with us We need you!

This is our appeal to ask for your support to spread our message.

We believe it is essential to protect human life from the perspective of human rights. These rights protect the human dignity. Moreover the Dutch government is bound to different human rights treaties.

We plead for a large group of vulnerable people who like others have the right of protection of their life, and access to medical care.

We therefore need as much help as we can in promoting our JPV message.

Talk with us

Visit our website www.provita.nl

How can you support the JPV?

Promoting our message on the value of human life is not easy in our self-determined society. Many people have higher values than the protection of human life. We would appreciate your support in our work through your membership or a donation.

Please visit our website for more information.